A SAD STORY

MEMORY OF INVENTOR OF THE DEPTH BOMB UNNECESSARILY DISHONORED

By Our Tujunga Correspondent

A local story of some sadness which is intertwined with war romance, submarine destruction and Germany spy propaganda and domestic intrigue, surrounds the events recently brought to light in District Attorney Woolwine's office concerning the dismissal of Albert Chappelle, who was in charge of investigations for the grand jury.

Here in this valley Captain T. G. Cushman, inventor of the famous depth bomb, lived and ended his days last autumn after an illness of but a few hours. Those acquainted with the captain's physical condition were in no way surprised at his sudden taking off and the efforts of the entire community were bent to ease the shock to his estimable wife, who has lived among us for so many years.

Some irresponsible characters, evidently with a view of bringing trouble upon the widow Cushman, took to the District Attorney's office a ridiculous line of suggestions that German propaganda was behind the sudden death of Captain Cushman last fall in order to get his blue prints of the depth bomb and other papers of that kind the inventor was then working upon and went so far as to indicate that the wife of the captain was a party to the pro-German conspiracy.

Instead of investigating the standing of all the parties in this community, Investigator Chappelle was probably blinded by the sensational features predominating the wild story and ruthlessly ordered the body of Captain Cushman disinterred by the coroner and examined for possible traces of poisoning, without giving the widow notice so that she could be represented on the occasion by friends of the captain, who should see that the remains were treated respectfully and restored to their original condition. The inquest of course disproved the absence of any foundation whatever to the silly inuendoes and very little more would have been heard of the matter except that the serious injury to Mrs. Cushman's mental condition was further added to by ungallant talk by Investigator Chappelle when she called to learn what had been done and whether everything had been restored to its proper condition.

Captain Cushman was a noted mariner and expert in explosives and mechanical devices connected therewith. When we entered the war he sent to the Navy Department plans for the making of a depth bomb which were immediately adopted. In due time the Government will do honor to the very remains which seem to have been so unnecessarily dishonored.

PATRIOTIC KIDDIES

STAGE INTERESTING AND SUCCESSFUL RED CROSS BENEFIT VAUDEVILLE

An interesting Red Cross benefit which netted $6.07 for the cause was staged on Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McClean, 927 Fairview avenue, when a group of eight children of the neighborhood from five to twelve years of age, put on a vaudeville performance entirely original with them. The affair was under the direction of Misses Dorothy Kramer and Caroline McClean, the sixteen year old sisters of several of the actors.

"We found the children were going to give it any way," said Miss Dorothy, "so we thought we might as well help them." And that is the way the whole neighborhood felt about it, so that a goodly gathering was grouped before the cleverly contrived "stage" to witness at 5 cents each the "home talent" represented by these enterprising youngsters. Not all of the sum netted, however, was from admission tickets, as a considerable quantity of home-made candy was sold, the materials being donated by sympathetic mothers while the "big sisters" did the greater share of the manufacturing.

An exceedingly creditable performance was the result of so much neighborhood co-operation and patriotic endeavor. Songs and recitations followed each other in pleasing variety, and little Mary Lois Newlin contributed a costume dance. The children taking part in the entertainment were Lorraine Masters, Robert Lehman, Lawrence Lehman, Alice Kramer, Grace McClean, Mary Lois Newlin, Charles Newlin and Lora Brock.

Mrs. W. A. Burns and son Robert, of 16 Piedmont Park, spent several days last week at Huntington Beach, where they were in attendance of several sessions of the Epworth League Institute.

GOVERNOR COMING

CALIFORNIA'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO BE HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. B. D. Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has secured Governor Stephens to address his people on Sunday evening. The governor will give a Christian Patriotic address, and no doubt the large auditorium of the First Methodist church will be filled to its capacity to hear him. Governor Stephens is a splendid talker, a one hundred per cent patriot and alive on the questions of the present hour and his appearance here will appeal to many who would otherwise have no opportunity of hearing him.

COURTESY TO CANDIDATES

It is good business for the citizens of Glendale to treat every authorized candidate for an office with due respect, for it is a sure fact that some of the candidates will be elected to the offices they seek, and it will be to Glendale's advantage to have the good will of the man who is representing us at Washington or at Sacramento.

There are five candidates for Congress whose names will appear on the ballot at the primary election August 27. One of the candidates, Montaville Flowers of Monrovia, has announced that he will speak to you at a mass meeting on the street this evening at 8 o'clock. It is up to the citizens of Glendale to give Mr. Flowers a courteous hearing. If you do, and he is elected to represent this district in Congress he is bound to have a more kindly feeling toward Glendale than he will have if you do not give him courteous treatment at this evening's meeting. There is a law of human nature that remains the same the world over.

This rule of courtesy should apply to the reception of other candidates when they visit Glendale.

EASTERN GUESTS

MR. AND MRS. GRAHAM OF PITTSBURGH ARE WELL ENTERTAINED WHILE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Graham, of Pittsburgh, with their small son James, who have been Glendale visitors for the past ten days, are leaving for their home this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Graham have been the honor guests at a number of small affairs during their stay here, among which was a barbecue last Thursday at Laguna beach at which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsay of Whittier were the host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. John Orth gave a theatre party on Tuesday evening at the Orpheum, and Mrs. Lindsay was hostess on Tuesday noon at a luncheon at the Victor Hugo. Mr. Graham, who is a well-known steel man, is returning to his work, now involving Government commissions, feeling much refreshed from his brief "play time" in Southern California.

Potter was host on Wednesday afternoon at a social meeting of the Pioneer Thimble club, when she entertained at her home, 1541 Pioneer drive, seven of the ten club members and seven special guests. Guests of the club were Mrs. J. H. Franklin, Mrs. Mable Franklin Ocker, Mrs. Frank Head, Mrs. Hoagland, of Oakland, house guest of Mrs. R. T. Hoagland, who was also present, Mrs. R. B. Work will be provided for all children who wish to come with their mothers, in the form of carpet rags to sew and quilt patches to be put together.

RAID MILLIONAIRE'S HOME

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES SEIZE 500 POUNDS OF SUGAR STORED AT PASADENA MANSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PASADENA, July 25.—A deputy federal marshal with food administration representatives raided the home of Hewlett C. Merritt, millionaire, here today and seized 500 pounds of sugar. The sugar was sold at auction as contraband.

Merritt is in the east and it is not believed he will be arrested until he returns. The regulations under which the seizure was made, provide for a fine of $5000 and a two-year term of imprisonment. Caretakers at the Merritt home state that the sugar was stored there temporarily, being stored for a refining company, but the federal authorities doubt this.

Merritt received considerable publicity some months ago because of his alleged refusal to purchase Liberty bonds.

VISIT IN GLENDALE

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Bahrenburg, of 323 West Park avenue, have been entertaining as their guests during the past week both of their sons with their families, from Bakersfield, though the visits only overlapped instead of falling at the same time. Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bahrenburg, with their little daughter Rhea, motored down last week, reaching Glendale on Friday and returning on Sunday, when Dr. and Mrs. George Bahrenburg, also of Bakersfield, arrived to stay until Tuesday night, when they went up on the Owl. Dr. and Mrs. Bahrenburg are hoping to return to Glendale following a month's vacation they expect to enjoy at Pismo, Cal. Mrs. Katherine Bahrenburg, of Long Beach, a sister of Dr. J. E. Bahrenburg, has also been a guest at the Glendale home.

MISS PIXLEY IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Miss Olive A. Pixley, who passed a federal civil service examination with a perfect rating and who has been holding a temporary clerical position in the U. S. Naturalization service in Los Angeles, today received her permanent appointment and is receiving the congratulations of her friends.

Miss Bess Phillips returned on Monday to her home, 710 West Fifth street, after her vacation trip in the North, where she visited friends in Tacoma. Among the many side trips of interest which she enjoyed was a visit to Camp Lewis.

RED CROSS AFFAIRS

FIRST AID TO AMATEURS, WORKERS WANTED FOR HOSPITAL GARMENTS

An innovation certain to meet with popular approval has been inaugurated at Red Cross headquarters in the conservation dressmaking department, a first aid to amateurs to be conducted on Tuesdays and Thursdays by Mrs. C. A. Waite, of 707 Central avenue, who has taken this means of contributing her service to the cause and "doing her bit." Mrs. White is an experienced dressmaker and conceived the idea of thus devoting her trained abilities to the bringing in of further revenue to the Glendale Red Cross chapter. On the two days in the week when the dressmaking room will be open from 10 o'clock till 2:00 in the afternoon, Mrs. Waite will, for a nominal sum, solve all the perplexing difficulties which assail the home dressmaker. Obstreperous collars, stubborn finishings and fittings, the difficulties encountered in the hanging of skirts and other points needing expert attention will be scientifically adjusted by Mrs. Waite. Especially will those wishing to remodel clothing for further service be aided and abetted in this worthy ambition. A machine will be available for those who wish to bring their sewing with them to work under direction, and Mrs. Waite will be glad to help in the planning of clothing, with style suggestions and any other service she can render to the aspiring amateur.

Mrs. Tuft announces that Mrs. Stephen Packer will be in charge of the surgical dressings on Friday and that a full attendance is desired as this department is again running full force.

Response to the request printed in the Glendale Evening News for special workers to help in getting off the shipment of tin foil which left yesterday was especially strong, enabling those in charge to solve the problem nicely. A large truckload of the tin foil was sent into Los Angeles yesterday.

The eight sewing machines kept running all of the time on the hospital garments are in need of an expert repair man once a week, and it is hoped that by bringing this need to public attention volunteers will be found who can find sufficient time weekly to perform this task as a direct aid to the boys at the front. No branch of the Red Cross work is more valuable on the fighting lines than the garments given for the wounded soldiers. To keep the great supply of these exceedingly necessary garments constantly going forward, an army of voluntary helpers must keep busy on this side, and no part of the work is of more consequence than that of the man who "makes the wheel go 'round." If any Glendale men who understand the oiling and care of machines are willing to contribute regular supervision of those of this department, their services would be much appreciated.

RED CROSS CANTEEN

INNOVATION AT LOS ANGELES HEADQUARTERS PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

Miss Norma Davis, of 212 Dayton court, who is a Red Cross dietitian and domestic science teacher and has taken up canteen work for the Red Cross at the Los Angeles headquarters, reports a big response to the opening of the canteen for Red Cross workers at 639 South Main street, the old Red Cross headquarters. This canteen was opened on Monday and on the first two days luncheons were served to more than 125 workers each day. The cooking and serving is carried on entirely by voluntary service of trained workers, 12 domestic science teachers from various parts of the country being in charge at present. The service is cafeteria style and the returns are for the Red Cross fund. The young women in the kitchens and dining room are all in blue costumes with the Red Cross insignia and the rooms are decorated in blue, the effect being very attractive. The cooking is strictly along conservation lines, though of the most appetizing quality. Miss Davis says that she personally yesterday baked 18 dozen muffins that were 100 per cent corn—and all of them rapidly disappeared. Red Cross workers from Glendale with their friends will be welcomed when finding it possible to stop in for luncheon while on shopping trips or during busy days in the city.

THE PAST OF A MOLEHILL

How small seem even the big things of the past! Twenty years ago today the Republican was getting out a war extra on the battle of Santiago. It was not much of a fight, but it was the only naval battle the world had ever seen since modern armament was invented, and it marked the emergence of America as a world power. It was not much of an "extra," but it was the first time Fresno had a newspaper seven days a week. It was all a big thing then.

There had been bigger things, but even they shrink now. The French revolution was one of the most tremendous upheavals in the history of the world, but when we read now its tragedy and romance we wonder how it ever could have been taken so seriously. The horrors of the execution of Charles I and of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, has outlasted the centuries. But now we are scarcely curious whether the reports of the killing of ex-Czar Nicholas or the denials of these reports are true. The ambition of Napoleon remade the world and cast his shadow across the ages, but even the most grandiose dreams seem petty now. The conquests of Caesar changed the history, the civilization and perhaps the religion of the world forever, but the immense diligence expended by historians in exhuming the details of those conquests seem futile grubbing now. For we are living in a time so much more critical than any that preceded it; the earth is shaking under the roar of events so much more cataclysmic than any that have ever happened before, and the daily newspaper gives us history so much more intense than any records of the past, that we have lost our perceptions of smaller things. The past is a molehill. We stand upon the mountain.—Fresno Republican.

THE OUTS VERSUS THE INS

It takes a lot of money to run the government of the State of California, and it will take more as time goes on. The party out of power will always tell us that the party in power is responsible for this increase; that it expends more than is necessary, and that too much is wasted. But this charge is always of a partisan nature and is always prominent at election time. At present the faction of the republican party now out of control tells us that there are too many commissions and too many commissioners, and the democrats are equally certain that there are too many commissions and too many commissioners. We think so, too. There are altogether too many politicians at the pie counter, but how can the number be reduced? By placing a new lot of politicians in control of the jobs of these commissions? We think not. Politicians want all the jobs they can get. This is true of all parties.

When a politician tells you that if placed in power he will reduce taxation by cutting down the number of officials and eliminating salaries ask him which officials and which salaries he would eliminate, which department of state business he would cut down, would he economize in interest charges, in the expense of education, or hospitals, or prisons, or roads? This does not mean that extensive pruning may not be done economically to appropriations. By no means, but these promises are mostly buncombe and they are curiously short on particulars. It is easy to promise to take away his job from a politician, but which politician, which job? That is a different thing.—Monrovia News.

THE WOMAN'S LAND ARMY OF AMERICA

The Woman's Land Army of America is inaugurating a nation-wide patriotic movement to supply woman workers on the farms. The organization is represented in California by a Northern Division covering the counties north of the Tehachapi Mountains, and a Southern Division covering the eight southern counties. Applications for units or requests for further information, should be directed to the Woman's Land Army of America(Northern Division), 521 Underwood Building, 525 Market street, San Francisco, or to the Woman's Land Army of America (Southern Division), 428 Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles.

The organization has signed up hundreds of women. Enrollment is still under way. The Northern California organization is prepared to send out units of from ten to one hundred women of eighteen years or older, who are physically fit, to work at picking, sorting, cutting, wrapping, packing, drying, and canning of fruit, truck gardening and light cultivation, dairying, ranch cooking, and handling of stock. To use these women necessitates that farmers provide central accommodations in the way of a camp site, or other approved housing, also cooking utensils and cots. Every unit will be under the direction of a supervisor. Housing facilities should meet the standards of the State Commission of Immigration and Housing. A minimum wage scale of $2 per day at the basic rate of 25c per hour has been established, but in no instance can Woman's Land Army units undercut the local wage. An eight hour day is the standard day except in emergencies. Overtime is to be paid at the rate of 1¼ times the regular rate, the overtime not to exceed two hours per day. The providing of seats whenever work will permit is requested by the organization. Farmers should arrange for transportation from railroad station to camp and guarantee four weeks' work. The women will provide their own supervision, cooks and food.

Local chairmen are enrolling the women of their communities to form local units. These women live at home but work in the neighboring orchards, canneries, dry-yards, etc. This programme is required by local conditions and has already had the result of calling out meny women through a patriotic appeal, and of generally stimulating interest in agricultural work.

EXPECT TO PLACE DISABLED SOLDIERS AT USEFUL WORK

The War Department authorizes the following statement from the office of the Surgeon General:

Many well-intentioned individuals have offered to take crippled soldiers into their service as watchmen, messengers, and in positions of similar character. While the spirit in which these offers are made is appreciated, they conflict with the policy of the Medical Department of the army.

From the time a wounded soldier is taken to the field hospital he is encouraged to understand that the seriousness of his wounds will not render him worthless for useful work. The work of reconstructing him both physically and mentally is carried on simultaneously.

At the present time there are many soldiers in the army hospitals in this country who have been crippled in the course of duty. In many cases these men are receiving the preliminary training which will be finished by civil boards authorized to continue the work begun by the Surgeon General. It is hoped that business men in general will accept these trained men on an equal footing with men who have not been crippled. These men will receive a training which will make them competent in the trade or profession which they elect to follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kranz, of 1317 North Brand boulevard, with their little daughter Barbara, are spending the summer at their cottage at Hermosa Beach, returning for occasional visits to their Glendale home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stamps, of 1304 Lomita avenue, with their two small daughters, have returned from Redondo, where they have been the guests for several days of Mrs. Stamps' parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lund, of Los Angeles, at their cottage.

Attorney and Mrs. James F. McBryde spent an enjoyable week end at Santa Monica with Mr. and Mrs. Ezra D. Mosher. They were joined by Mrs. Nellie Rike and Mr. Harbold for a picnic dinner on Sunday. Mr. Mosher left for Camp Lewis on Monday morning.

Mrs. Arthur P. Knight, of 317 East Second street, has received word from her son, Lieutenant A. W. Knight, formerly stationed at Fort MacArthur, telling of his arrival at an eastern camp and giving his new address. Lieutenant Knight is with the 15th Artillery, C. A. C., Camp Eustis, Virginia.

Arthur J. Lindley, of 104 South Kenwood street, has just returned from a business trip of a few days to Santa Barbara, where he is superintending the construction of the new Grace M. E. church of which he is the architect. The handsome new edifice will probably be completed some time in October.

Mrs. Charles Perkins of 1420 Lomita avenue will entertain on Friday afternoon with an informal little neighborhood porch party, believing that sociability and neighborliness should not fail even through the warm weather and the vacation days when so many are away. Among those present will be Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. R. A. Puffer and Mrs. G. D. Roach.

Henry Koepke with his daughter, Miss Dorothy, former Glendale residents who came here several weeks ago for the sake of Mrs. Koepke's health, have returned to their home at Pendleton, Oregon, leaving Mrs. Koepke here at the home of Mrs. Frank Marsh of 113 Central avenue. Mrs. Koepke feels that Glendale is proving very beneficial to her and she is improving very nicely.

W. L. Marble has taken the house at 1550 Myrtle and will move his family to Glendale about August 1. Mr. Marble is connected with the Oldfield Tire Co., of which Barney Oldfield is president. He says he has tried most of the suburban towns around Los Angeles as a place of residence and has decided that Glendale is the place where he wants to rear his family and spend the remainder of his days.

Mr.and Mrs. Charles Ravenscroft, who have made their home with their daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, and her family during their residence in Glendale, are still at the family home at 537 South Kenwood street, where they are superintending the packing of the furniture which is to be shipped north. Mr. and Mrs. Ravenscroft expect to move on Friday to apartments at 1017 Broadway, where they will remain for the present, though it is possible they will later move to Seattle.

The decorations will be in pink, crepe myrtle forming the background of the pretty floral effects. The guests will be Miss Donna Leavens of Berkeley and Miss Ruth Williams of Madeira, Cal., both house guests at the Imler home, and the Misses Ruth McGamy of Berkeley, Ruth Rhodes of Pasadena, Alice Eastwood, Blanche Eastwood and Mattie Vickes, all of Oxnard, Dorothy Kennedy of Riverside, Florence Mason of Los Angeles, and Katherine Renshaw and Anna Woodberry, both of Glendale.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE IS TOO FAT, SAYS CANDIDATE

"The sheriff's office has been a fat one—I want to make it a lean one. I will accept nothing but my salary as sheriff.

"I am not visionary, but I hold there can be idealism even in the sheriff's office.

"I am not a softy, but I believe prisoners are human beings and should be so treated. I intend to make reforms in the county jail.

"I stand for a balanced ration for prisoners. And while solitary confinement may be necessary in rare cases, there is no excuse for the dungeon or 'hole.' "

Men and women are rallying about the standard of Jas. A. Walton, fighting ex-parson and candidate for sheriff, because he has spiked the above statements into his platform and because they believe he thinks of the county jail in terms of humanity as well as of dollars and cents.

Walton says not only will he refuse fees if elected, but he won't accept a cent of profit from any source in office.

"I propose to buy food for the prisoners where I can buy cheapest," he says. "I'll insist on the board of supervisors auditing all the bills, and every cent of the allowance per prisoner left over after the bills are paid, if there is any, will be turned into the county treasury."

Walton says he will abolish petty grafts in the county jail wherever he finds them. There'll be no 25 cents paid for clothes hangers after he gets in, he states.

"Every prisoner, whether he has a quarter to pay for a hanger or not, is entitled to go out into the world after his sentence with unrumpled clothing."

The candidate struck a blow at the caste system in the county jail which places the man paying $5 a week at the "boarder's table."

"No man who has been convicted of an offense will be allowed to sit at the boarders' table, no matter how much money he has," declared Walton.

The candidate confesses he got many valuable ideas about jail and jailers while studying under Dr. Graham Taylor, of the famous Chicago Commons.

Walton is "dry," and will fight the "blind pigs" as long as he is in office, he declares.

A Word of Appreciation

From Dr. D. M. Gandier, State Supt. Anti-Saloon League

My Dear Mr. Walton—Permit me to thank you for the splendid work accomplished in Los Angeles City during our "dry" fight. No man could be more untiring than you were. Hours were never counted. By day and by night you were on the job. Anything given you to be done was done without shirking and with careful attention to every detail; you did your work well. * * * I want to assure you of my appreciation of what you accomplished.

Sincerely and gratefully yours,
(Signed) D. M. GANDIER.

BOLSHEVIK BLOW STAGGERS RUSSIA

By Joseph Veksler Shaplen
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Copyright, 1918, by the United Press

STOCKHOLM, July 1.—Although the fourth year of the war was marked by the complete disorganization of Russia, both militarily and politically, the country was really out of the war in 1916, when a million soldiers deserted from the army. Only the Czarist censorship prevented the truth from becoming known to the world at that time.

The tremendous shaking up of the already disorganized national fabric caused by the revolution, in addition to the many complications both internal and external from which the revolution found itself unable to escape—when peace was most needed in order to solve these numerous problems and repair the teribble consequences of war—opened the road to Bolshevism and threw Russia into the clutches of German Imperialism, whose seal was finally set with the Brest-Litovsk treaty.

So far as military operations in the year 1917-18 are concerned, there were hardly any worth the name with the exception of Korniloff's drive towards Halicz, which really belongs to the end of the third year of the war. This offensive, which was carried out largely on account of pressure brought to bear by the Allied representatives in Petrograd, was at first most successful. The Russians captured Kalush and had advanced as far as the suburbs of Halicz. Then they were hurled back by German reinforcements who not only recaptured Tarnopol but the entire triangel of Volynian fortresses—Royno, Dubno, and Lutsk.

The disorganization of the Russian army now appeared complete. The failure of the offensive proved to be a great boost for Bolshevism, and Korniloff's subsequent advance upon Petrograd served to pour oil on the Bolshevist flames. Shortly before the latter circumstance, Riga had been taken, and Korniloff had been accused of deliberately surrendering it in order to arouse anti-Bolshevisk resentment and halt the growth of Bolshevik propaganda. These events, plus the German attacks under Linsingen prior to Korniloff's drive for Halicz and which the Russians with considerable losses parried, finished their military operations for 1917.

As for naval operations, the Germans, utilizing Riga as a base, landed troops and occupied Oesel, Moon, and Dabgo Islands. At first they succeeded in bottling up the Russian fleet, but the latter by a really clever maneuver managed to escape from the perilous Moon Sound.

The end of 1917 saw the triumph of the Bolsheviki and the separate peace with the Central Powers, with all its disastrous consequences. Russia lost Poland, Lithuania, the Baltic Provinces, Ukraine, Bessarabia, Finland, and part of the Caucasus. And the losses in the last named are likely to increase in view of the general disorganization in that quarter, the dissolution of the regional government opening the road to Turkish aggressions.

The appalling character of these losses is evident when it is considered that they comprise 707,000 square versts (a verst is .66 of a mile) of territory with a population of 46,000,000. This decrease in the area of the Russian Republic is slightly less than 40 per cent, but the lost provinces are the most fertile and most populous of the entire country.

The last territory had a total bread and potato production, conservatively estimated of 2,896,000,000 puds. (A pud or pood is 36.07 pounds.) In other words the arable area is reduced 27 per cent, and crops lessened 37 per cent.

In railways the losses represent 17,500 versts, out of a total of 66,000, or about one-fourth. This loss is even more serious than the mileage figures indicate, inasmuch as the surrendered territory includes many of Russia's most important railway junctions.

Prior to the war Russia's total annual production in manufactures was 2,800,000,000 rubles (a ruble equals 51.5 cents) the number of workmen employed was 2,075,000 and the number of machines in use was 1,457,000. The reductions now represent 925,000,000 rubles, 612,000 workmen, and 575,000 machines, or respectively 33 per cent, 29 per cent, and 39 per cent.

In coal and iron output, the basis of all industry in Russia, the reduction is even more startling. Before the war Russia produced annually 2,000,000,000 puds of coal and 260,000,000 puds of iron. Present Russia can produce only 500,000,000 puds of coal and 70,000,000 puds of iron.

These figures mean that Russia's industrial development of the past twenty years is practically wiped out as a result of the 4th year of the war—the sabotage of the Russian peace program and the policy of the Bolsheviki.

The big question now is whether Russia can withstand such blood-letting. In opposing the forces of imperialism she faces her severest battle for political and economic independence. Only the speediest reorganization of the nation's physical and human material can prevent Russia's falling into the status of China or Turkey.

The task is too big for the Bolsheviki. Only the united efforts of the whole democracy of the country by means of a real constituent assembly can save her.

The 4th year of the war saw Russia's great revolution and Russia's great fall.

Will the 5th year be the year of her awakening?

LA CANADA

A young Princeton college lad being asked, "Are you prepared to die for your country?" made this reply: "Not a bit of it. I'm prepared, —— well prepared to make about six Huns die daily for theirs."

Harry Lauder said, "We're a wee land, and a puir land, but, by God, we're brave."

The uncle of Ralph Davenport of Homewood avenue is in the hospital to undergo a serious operation.

Word has been received from Mrs. Dr. Scott saying they are having a quiet, restful time and that Dr. Scott is improving slowly by the change and the beneficial sea air.

The Rev. Robert Renison of Los Angeles will commence a series of lectures on the Book of the Revelation on Wednesday evening, July 31, in the Congregational church of La Canada at 7:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission free. These lectures are thoroughly evangelical, prophetical, scriptural and practical. Come. Those who have had the pleasure of hearing the Rev. Renison have found him very interest-compelling.

Mr. and Mrs. Stultz are very enthusiastic over a ride they had last Sunday. They took their family and Mrs. Vandegrift, Jr., with them and visited Topango canyon. They saw a tea house operated by the Red Cross which was well patronized, saw many kilties, saw the natural beauties in the canyon and stopped at Santa Monica to enjoy watching the bathing. They had such a good time.

Albert Vandegrift, Jr., and his brother Hardwick had a most enjoyable tramp in the mountains on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. White Womack have moved into the house formerly occupied by the Eberles at Flintridge, bringing Mr. Womack nearer the scene of his labors.

H. L. Cooper's house on Michigan avenue has just been vacated.

Our blacksmith, Mr. Huntington, closes his shop on the last of the month and goes to San Pedro to work. When work picks up again he will be back and resume his old place of business.

To assist with our pictures at the school house, an orchestra is being formed. Any person with musical ability, please help. Report to moving picture committee for particulars.

Mrs. Peet, accompanied by the Misses Lora Peet, Alice Constable, Lulu Green and Mrs. Edwin Cooper, spent a very enjoyable week end at San Diego. Sergeant Cooper expects to leave soon. Lloyd Peet is looking fit and every bit a soldier. The family and friends drove down in the car recently purchased by Mrs. Peet from Max Green.

Albert Vandegrift, Jr., and family are making their home at the McMullin place in the absence of the owners.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McMullin motored to San Francisco with their son Cecil when he returned to his home in that city. They contemplate making quite a visit.

Tom Hall and Violet were returning from Los Angeles last Saturday afternoon and had quite a serious accident. They were running north on Verdugo road and slowed up at Third street for an Eagle Rock car headed for Eagle Rock. The car gave every evidence of stopping and Mr. Hall started up and the car did the same. Mr. Hall manged to swerve his car aside, but the trolley car caught the back end of the machine and turned it over completely, confining Mr. Hall under his car, while Violet was thrown out and badly scratched by being scraped along the dirt. When Mr. Hall was released he was found to have escaped uninjured. His engine was clipping away merrily overhead and he just under the gasoline tank before he was rescued or the engine stopped. The radiator of Mr. Hall's new Ford, windshield, fenders, top, etc., were pretty well demolished.

Mrs. Huntington's sister, Mrs. Sears, and daughter were guests recently of the Huntingtons.

Just one year ago today Hubert Bentley sailed from New York for work in France.

Mrs. Wiliam R. Jewett and daughter Frances, of Burr avenue, started Wednesday for their summer home in Norwich, Conn. Mrs. Jewett will remain until they have visited her two sons, who are in the U. S. service. Lieut. Edward is stationed at Fortress Monroe, Va., while Fitch is expected at Pelham Bay.

Another sewing machine sent to Red Cross rooms for use at the present time. Mrs. Sydney Ellis was the lady who so kindly lent it.

The work for the children of France was being pushed forward by busy needles on Tuesday. Many ladies on leaving carried their home work away with them. Many had already done so. Four sewing machines now to work with. Mrs. Lea will welcome more workers.

The Malcolm McNaghtens entertained a party of friends at dinner at Van Nuys hotel and occupied a box at the Orpheum Wednesday night.

There'll be no Improvement Meeting Saturday night, July 27. It is postponed for one month to August 31.

Sister Elsie Peak may be changed to Lukens Peak. The subject is being agitated and the change made to honor T. P. Lukens, who was a reforestation advocate.

TUJUNGA

The Ladies' Aid will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday, August 1st, at the home of Mrs. Hubbard on Stephens way. The ladies are expected to bring their knitting.

Mr. Correa was in Los Angeles Thursday to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, returning on Sunday.

Charles W. Dean was up from Brawley from Saturday until Monday. He says the weather is somewhat warm, being 128 degrees in the shade, but one does not mind the heat on account of the intense dryness. He intends to come back to Tujunga about the first of August.

John Steen of Long Beach was a caller in the valley on Tuesday.

Don Wieman was home over Sunday from his work on the Sespe, returning Monday.

Mrs. Charles Warren came from Long Beach on Tuesday to look after the irrigating of the trees.

Don't forget to attend the Red Cross sewing bee on Friday. There are plenty of machines, also plenty of hand work. If you have any small pieces that will do for patch work, please bring them for the Juniors. Mrs. Linnaberry donated a quilt and lining ready to be put together. They will soon have a quilting bee, as well as the work on refugee clothing for the Belgian chidlren.

There was no dance on Saturday night owing to the inability to procure proper dance music. The young people were much disappointed.

Mrs. Jackson of Montebello was a guest over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Parcher. She was so pleased with the valley that she hopes to come for a longer stay.

Mrs. Kofta and son, who have been here for the past month, returned to their home in Pasadena on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson of Los Angeles will try Tujunga climate for asthma. They are from Vermont.

Some one entered the houes of Miss Grace Greer and took away many articles of value in the line of clothing. Something is needed in the way of officers to look after this thieving.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweet of Anaheim were guests of Mrs. Woodruff on Tuesday.

The Misses Haggarty of Long Beach were in Tujunga to look after their home place. Just now the beaches seem to have a strong call, but the weather here is ideal

Dr. Kearney is working in Los Angeles, with week ends at his home here.

Mrs. Ludke will join some friends at Camp Baldy for a few days' pleasure, returning next week.

Mr. Richards left on Wednesday for a trip to Cincinnati, leaving his wife, daughter and son here.

Some one kindly picked all the apricots off a tree belonging to Dr. Peters. The doctor has to go without her sauce, while some one else, who has not cared for it, takes them. This was not boys' work as the tree was carefully and thoroughly picked after dark.

PLATFORM

SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT

"OUR PRESENT AND IMMEDIATE TASK IS TO WIN THE WAR AND NOTHING SHALL TURN US ASIDE FROM IT UNTIL IT IS ACCOMPLISHED."—PRESIDENT WILSON.

This is the first plank in my platform, which looks toward the future, not the past. Having in 1915 urged an immediate preparation for a possible war with Germany, and having supported upon the platform and in the press every step and measure looking to that end, I now stand for a War-till-Victory and Peace-with-Victory policy, and subordinate all other effort and aim to that alone.

PROHIBITION

The war has quickened the moral conscience of the world. Many reforms of slow development have come into maturity in a day. Among these is the cause of Prohibition. This great advance is the result not of the work of one man, but of the millions of men and women in all parts of America and the hundreds of their representatives in state and national governments. I have always believed in the utter elimination from civilization of the drink habit. I believe in the removal from all industry of every agency that makes toward the alcoholic evil. From boyhood I have been an aggressive fighter for Prohibition, and for 25 years a contributor to the Anti-Saloon League. Fifteen years ago I began making the following statement in an address and have repeated it in all the states of the Atlantic Coast and New England, where the liquor interests are strongest:

> "I have four great reasons for being a Prohibitionist. One is my own son, whom I do not wish to be touched by alcohol or tainted by any of its companion evils; the other three reasons are three other boys, somewhere in the world, whom I do not now know and over whom I have no control, but who may be ruined by alcohol and thus destroy the lives of my three daughters who may be married to them."

And I have the same interest and solicitude for every boy and girl in the world.

If elected to Congress I shall support all good efforts already made; shall co-operate with all the millions who have brought this reform to its high advance, and shall propose and push other measures that may be necessary to make this country forever free from alcoholism.

SERVING THE NATION

I have always abhorred the "pork barrel" idea of Congress and I think that in this national calamity of war it is wickedly contrary to the spirit of the times for candidates to make campaigns upon promises to get huge sums of money from the national treasury. Such campaigns and such methods belong to a period of the old age of politics. They are fearfully reactionary and intended to corrupt the District by bribing a constituency with false hopes of personal gain.

While this nation is striving to conserve all resources, to husband all energies and win the war, and while the people of the District have been lifted to a high spiritual plane of giving time, money and life itself, let us maintain that plane and make it the chief business of this District to organize scientifically for the war so that we may be the most patriotic, the most efficient District in America.

SERVING THE DISTRICT

If elected to Congress it shall be my pleasure as well as my duty to see that this District shall receive, in proportion to its great advantages, a full share in the distribution of funds and industries pertaining to the war, and in the development of aid to meet the peculiar needs of this District. I shall be guided by the general principle that all the people of the nation are equally interested in preserving every foot of timber and in reforestation of lands; saving every acre of soil by flood control or by irrigation projects and all sources of water power; all the people are equally interested in the development of every harbor, and the promotion of every industry; in the creation of shipyards and terminal facilities; and I shall press the needs of this District to their full merit. I believe we have more to give to the nation and as much that we are entitled to receive from the nation which will be of general value to the country as any District in America ever has had; and I see here a field for development of the District which has lain almost fallow.

Many of the material interests of the Ninth Congressional District are definite and distinct from those of every other District.

AGRICULTURAL, CITRUS AND OTHER FRUIT INTERESTS

This District contains one of the greatest agricultural areas in the world. It contains the finest and most valuable citrus area in America, and the citrus industry has distinct problems of its own. I have practical knowledge of them. They are problems of shipping, of marketing and distributing; of fertilizers and fumigation, and the elements that compose them; of the destruction of pests; of water supply and water distribution, and of general protection to the industry. There are also problems of deciduous fruits and other products. These interests should be conserved and guarded by proper national legislation, for upon them depends the whole happiness and well-being of the people of the District in both city and country and they never have needed attention as they will need it throughout the war, and in the period of reconstruction immediately thereafter. As a fruit-grower and farmer, I believe I can conserve these interests more than any other candidate.

DEVELOPMENT OF INDUSTRIES AND COMMERCE

This District contains a part of the great City of Los Angeles, and many of the interests of the Ninth and Tenth Districts are identical. Among these is the development of industries so that we may become more independent economically and these industries may be developed through proper surveys for water power, for raw material, for the manufacture of our own products and for the manufacture of raw materials which may be brought direct from other lands, especially from Mexico, from South America, and from near-by states. The development of these industries and this commerce through governmental aid is one of the great problems of reconstruction after the war, which will require wide experience and influence.

OUR HARBORS

Of all the great projects confronting the Ninth District and Southern California as well, nothing more concerns the welfare of the whole region than the development of a great harbor at Long Beach and San Pedro. I have intimately studied the practical needs of this seaport and its possibilities, and knowing that its development will confer almost incalculable benefits on this section, I can pledge not only my utmost efforts, but my greatest personal interest in obtaining for it the maximum cooperation from the National Government and all other legitimate sources.

EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Los Angeles County long has held a front rank in the progress of education in America. This fact should have national recognition and it can easily be secured by competent leadership by your representative at Washington. There is afoot a great advance in reorganization of the whole structure of national educational interests at Washington, in which I am assured a large part should I be chosen to represent the District in Congress. My long connection with educational affairs and wide acquaintance with the educators and schools of this country will be an asset to this District in recognized leadership in one of the greatest fields of reconstruction after the war.

PROBLEMS OF THE NEW ERA

Upon the desks of the members of the next Congress will be placed a greater amount of work than has come before any Congress, and work that will be freighted with destiny. The regular order in times of peace will all be there, but multiplied a thousand-fold. In addition there will come great new national and international questions of supreme importance. There will be opportunity for good work and a chance for fatal mistakes. We are on the eve of great changes throughout the world concerning the relation of the Government to the individual, to industry, to property, to the whole social fabric of our lives. There will be great need of men who are able enough and brave enough to preserve American ideals and American institutions lest the pendulum may swing too far into social and industrial experiments. National happiness and prosperity, which have been the result of several hundred years of painful and tedious progress, are frequently undermined in a brief period. The men of the next Congress should be men who long since have gone over the groundwork of these subjects; men who are familiar with the development of civilization and the mistakes of the people of the past, and who understand the social institutions and changes of foreign countries; men who are already trained to think in terms of the world.

PATRIOTISM AND PARTY

I believe in the principles and patriotism of the Republican party and that in peace and war good politics is merely "Patriotism on the job." I believe in equal suffrage, equal opportunity, and equal pay for equal service, for women; all these had their first supporters in this party.

I believe, with Wm. H. Taft, that we should elect a Republican Congress to stimulate the Administration and to satisfy the country with constructive legislation. It was a Republican Congressman, Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts, who first urged Congress to preparedness for war; another Republican Congressman, Julius Kahn of California, who put through the Selective Draft Act against the anti-war forces. Chairman Will H. Hays says: "For all members of both Houses, present and voting on all war measures, the Republicans have furnished 76 per cent and the Democrats 24 per cent." The Republican Party is on the job.

I agree with Elihu Root, that "When the war ends we shall have to get back to a Government of limited powers and individual freedom. We shall not go back where we were. That can not be done. But never in American history have brains and character been needed more in Congress than they will be at the time, probably within the life of the next Congress, when Germany breaks and peace comes."

I agree with Theodore Roosevelt: "Our young men have gone to the other side, very many of them to give up in their joyous prime all the glory and all the beauty of life, for the prize of death in battle, for a lofty ideal. While they are defending us we men and women at home must insist in public and private on a loftier idealism, which shall find expression beside the hearthstone and in the family, and in the councils of state and nation."

No man can boast to meet in full the great demands of the hour, but with patriotic devotion to my country and with the devout wish to give my life into an acceptable service, I solicit your consideration.

Most respectfully,

MONTAVILLE FLOWERS.

HE'LL EAT 'EM!

The benevolent-looking old gentleman was sightseeing in the camp. "So you are going to make the world safe for democracy, are you?" he said to one of the soldiers.

The man looked at him scornfully and said, "Hell, no! I'm going over to make the guy that said America couldn't raise an army eat his words!"

COULDN'T GET HER COLLAR ON

"Well, Mary," said the minister kindly, "you didn't come to our little gathering last night after all. How was that?"

"Please, sir, I had a little gathering of my own that prevented me."

"Oh, and where was that?"

"On the back of my neck."
